Lone Star Christmas By A Customer "A Spur for Christmas" is a charming story of four armadillo brothers who make their own Christmas tree out of a prickly pear cactus. The illustrations are the part I liked best in this book, because they are pictures plants, animals, and birds that you can see in South Central Texas.

In this delightful holiday tale, a family of adorable armadillos spies a Christmas tree through the window of a ranch house, and they decide to create a tree of their own. Young readers will enjoy the armadillos' creativity as they search the plains for suitable materials to make the most beautiful Christmas tree in Texas.
