National Geographic Maps : Arizona (National Geographic Guide Map) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Arizona (National Geographic Guide Map):

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Nice map bookBy K. L. MartinNice map book, but I guess I'm too used to the BLM maps. Was hoping for a little more detail to find camping spots off the beaten track. If you're sticking to regular roads and sight-seeing, this is perfect for that.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. About as good as it getsBy SammyAbout as good as it gets, though the colors denoting different types of public lands could be more pronounced.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Much better than advertisedBy Todd BarrickThough being a used book, it looks to be brand new. Much better than advertised.

Waterproof Tear-Resistant Travel MapCombining a comprehensive road map with a convenient travel guide, National Geographic's Arizona Guide Map is an essential travel companion for all visitors. The main map's road network is complemented by a user friendly index of counties, cities and towns. Clear designations are given for free access and toll roads; interstate, state and country routes; paved and unpaved roads; and scenic byways. Major highways are shown with mileage markers and roadside rest areas. Points of interest, national and state public recreation areas, airports, hospitals, ski areas and visitor centers are all pinpointed.Detailed inset maps show the Phoenix metropolitan area, Downtown Phoenix, Tuscon, Flagstaff, Yuma, and Bullhead City/Laughlin, in addition to Saguaro and Petrified Forest National Parks. A travel guide to Grand Canyon National Park, complete with map and contact information, is also provided along with a chart showing the available services in the state's abundant national parks. A calendar of events and points of interest guide describe and provide contact information for many of the most popular attractions. Every State Guide Map is printed on durable synthetic paper, making them waterproof, tear-resistant and tough capable of withstanding the rigors of any kind of travel.Map Scale = 1:1,750,000Sheet Size = 17.75" x 24.75"Folded Size = 4" x 8.75"
