We did a few of the hikes, our favorite being Mosaic Canyon. Although many of these hikes are well known and you could find them with free information provided in the park, it's nice having the book before the trip so you can pick out the hikes that interest you, in the areas near where you will be, and have the planning done before arriving in the park. The information seemed current and was very accurate. We are a family with 2 parents and a 6 year old. Oh, and DV is an awesome place to explore!!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. We loved this little bookBy dfriesWe loved this little book. While it didn't dictate our full itinerary, it gave us a place to start. We enjoyed using it as a checklist for top attractions in the valley. It was accurate, easy to read, and comprehensive for short hikes to explore. You should definitely also purchase the National Geographic map, as well, in order to give you a more complete picture of the valley from which to plan. I would definitely recommend this book as an introduction to Death Valley (and we spent 6 days there!).0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I was amazed at how beautiful Death Valley isBy Allison L ThomasWe were lucky enough to schedule our trip to Death Valley when this year's 'superbloom' was in progress. Even without the wildflowers, however, I was amazed at how beautiful Death Valley is. We followed a number of the hikes in the book over a period of 3 days; our favorite hikes were Mosaic Canyon and the hikes that include Golden Canyon, Red Cathedral, Badlands, Zabriskie Point and Gower Gulch. The distances and explanations in the book were very helpful.

Hikes varying from half-hour strolls to full-day adventures, this guidebook is for everyone, including families.

From the Back CoverBest Easy Day Hikes Death Valley National Park includes concise descriptions and detailed maps for twenty easy-to-follow hikes in this popular destination in southeastern California. From the wide-open salt flats of the Badwater Basin to narrow, twisting canyons with walls that have been beautifully sculpted by wind and water, this is a surprising and wonderful place to explore.
