Tim Rock : Lonely Planet Diving Snorkeling Belize before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Lonely Planet Diving Snorkeling Belize:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Good resource, needs an update By gkm Was published a little while ago, so it could use some updating. However, it is a great resource that is very specific for diving around Belize with fantastic photos of underwater critters and outlines of dive sites. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Richard Olsongood 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. expensive By molly kiuchi worth every penny, again a lack of photos but Tim Rock really knows his stuff and writes like hes talking to you. His photos are unbelievable!

The world's second-longest barrier reef, three of the Western Hemisphere's four coral atolls, more than 400 fish species and a host of invertebrates sheltering in warm Caribbean waters make Belize an irresistible destination for divers and snorkelers alike. This guide will introduce you to the wonders both underwater and topside that have earned the country its reputation as an ecotourism hotspot. In This Guide: Detailed dive information to 82 sites Full-color photos throughout Easy-to-read maps of dive regions Travel logistics and topside attractions

Lonely Planet, the intrepid traveler's bible...' --Los Angeles Times, April 2005 From the Publisher Who We Are At Lonely Planet, we see our job as inspiring and enabling travelers to connect with the world for their own benefit and for the benefit of the world at large. What We Do * We offer travelers the world's richest travel advice, informed by the collective wisdom of over 350 Lonely Planet authors living in 37 countries and fluent in 70 languages. * We are relentless in finding the special, the unique and the different for travellers wherever they are. * When we update our guidebooks, we check every listing, in person, every time. * We always offer the trusted filter for those who are curious, open minded and independent. * We challenge our growing community of travelers; leading debate and discussion about travel and the world. * We tell it like it is without fear or favor in service of the travelers; not clouded by any other motive. What We Believe We believe that travel leads to a deeper cultural understanding and compassion and therefore a better world.
