This map does NOT include All of Washington DC. ...By LynnThis map does NOT include All of Washington DC. Too hard to readBy E. MooreThis is my second water-resistant Lonely Planet map, and I'm very disappointed with it. The color contrast is too pale, and the printing is too small. Visit scenes of scandal and bars where lobbyists troll for politicians. Attend a concert at the Kennedy Center or hike the trails in Rock Creek Park. Find world-class museums and formidable architecture, grand promenades and shady alleys. Bring this handy City Map to find them all.Highlights on the map include: Washington Monument - A fitting memorial to a man who would not be king and who would not serve more than two terms in the novel post of US president. Vietnam Veterans Memorial - The reflections of visitors in the black stone link them almost physically with the names on the wall itself. National Air Space Museum - Celebrating over 100 years of flight, the immense glass box of this museum is a love letter to mankind's dreams of flight. Georgetown - Here you'll find the best shopping in the district, from clothes and jewelry to art and antiques. Lincoln Memorial - This temple to the man who saved the nation that he called 'the last best hope on Earth' is as plain and elegant as that man's words.
