By Christopher Bessert
Commercial maps of Mackinac Island are rather rare, so when this map came out in 2008, I snatched up a copy right away. While it was nice in that it showed the Island, St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, the quality of both the source data and the cartographic presentation left a lot to be desired. Streets that aren't there are included, streets that are there are left off, wrong street names, misplaced points of interest and a cartographic style that just isn't appealing to the eye make me wonder if this map is worth five bucks. The photo on the cover is nice, though...

I love maps, but this one is useless. It does not include much of anything of use, despite the cover promoting 'Points of Interest, Parks, Hospitals, Schools' etc. It shows a few of the 'major' roads on the island and that's it. It has better detail of St. Ignace and Mackinaw City than the island. Save your money and download a free map off the Mackinac Island Tourism Bureau's website.

This map features points of interest, airports, camping facilities, parks, selected local attractions and more. State maps feature insets of major cities. Our city map offers additional detail, with depiction of streets on one side and a large scale metro area road map on the other.
