From Brand: White Pine Press : Magical Sites: Women Travelers in 19th Century Latin America before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Magical Sites: Women Travelers in 19th Century Latin America:

Women move beyond 19th century conventions to travel and write in Latin America.

From the Back Cover This intriguing group of travel journals reveals the voices of women who traveled in Latin America during the nineteenth century. From French nuns who left their homelands to establish convents in Latin America to well-bred English women who accompanied their husbands on business travels, these women discovered a world beyond anything they had known or expected and recorded it in their journals. Their male counterparts may have discovered the land, but these women discovered its heart and soul.

About the Author Marjorie Agosin is a poet, writer and human rights activist. She is also a professor of Spanish at Wellesley College and editor of our Secret Weavers Series.
