Callahan I still like to own a mapsco of whatever major city I'm living in. A GPS can get you where you want to be but it's hard to know where you are without proper map. Do you ever find your GPS moving your around in circles, taking you through a very bad neighborhood, wanting you to make u-turn were none should be taken with any sort of safety. Well knowing your route where you are where you want to be. Is the way we've done it for thousands of years. If you want a computer to take you where you want to go most of time you'll be okay, untill your not. Then you have to figure out your own way out. And mapsco will be very handy. 0 of 0 people
