I Love This Book!By L. RowleyI absolutely love this book. The author chose homes of real people who live on the island and the homes featured are personal, unique, brimming with personality, and will delight you with more eye candy than you can imagine. If you want a book you can look at again and again, and if you're looking for inspiration, this book does it all.8 of 8 people found the following review helpful. A True Piece of the VineyardBy L. MuircroftI always enjoy my time in New England particularly on Cape Cod and the Islands. This book is beautifully photographed and put together. You get a real feel for all those lovely little towns and their special places. The views, interiors and gardens truly reflect the feel of Martha's Vineyard. You can almost smell the sea and the roses when you turn the pages. A great coffee table book and a nice addition to your travel library. It's really worth having.

A rare glimpse into the outstanding private homes and gardens of Martha's Vineyard, this classic work is expanded with new pictures and commentary. Every kind of Vineyard home, from Edgartown mansions to Gay Head beach cottages, and every kind of garden, from perennial border to wildflower meadow is featured here. On the Vineyard, the natural world and the man-made exist side by side, as the Island's houses and gardens blend harmoniously into the landscape. It is that harmony, and the balance between old houses and new, that give the Vineyard much of its unique style. This world is captured in an illuminating text by long-time Vineyard resident Polly Burroughs and hundreds of stunning, full-color photographs by Lisl Dennis. Together they reveal the rich diversity and myriad charms of the houses and gardens of Martha's Vineyard.

About the Author Polly Burroughs is a long-time resident of Martha's Vineyard and has written extensively about it. Lisl Dennis is a third generation summer resident and a noted photographer and instructor. Her permanent home is in Sante Fe, New Mexico.
